

Our local Klove broadcast offers listeners an alternative to the objectionable broadcasting filling the FM airwaves in El Paso. The DJ's offer information and unoffensive conversations and the music does not add to the promotion of sexual promiscuity. Klove also offers free event advertising to community churches to reach those of us that would otherwise not know what events the churches have to offer. It would be a loss to tasteful radio broadcasting options and our local community if KLove were displaced by an LPFM broadcaster. If a station is able to continue operation on donations from local listeners, there must be an interest large enough to keep the broadcasting available.
